

Fire Fighting and Prevention Awareness

Introduction

This basic fire fighting and fire prevention course is aimed at all levels of employees who are designated fire fighters in any organisation and who need to understand the basics of fire, from their origins through to the spread of fire and how to contain that fire.

Course Outcomes

Candidates will understand the basics of fire and what measures to use to control that fire so as to allow escape from fire situations of all personnel.

Culminating Outcomes

- The candidate will be equipped with the knowledge of different types of fire extinguishers;
- How to use those extinguishers;
- What to do to prevent fire in the workplace before there is an issue;
- How to protect their colleagues in the event of fire.

COURSE CONTENT

A three hour theoretical discussion on the characteristics of fires, the combustion process and requirements for a fire to be continually burn. Thereafter there is a practical exercise whereby ever candidate will get the opportunity to actually use the fire extinguishers to control and then extinguish a controlled blaze.